PREFACE.

THESE Indices are designed to supply the want of a handy and useful means of reference to the publications of the Palæographical Society, the expense of printing them being met out of the balance left in hand when the Society was dissolved in 1895 and the additions since made to it by the sale from time to time of portions of the surplus stock. They cover the two Series of Facsimiles of Greek, Latin and other Manuscripts and Inscriptions, comprising 455 plates in all, which were issued by the Society between 1874 and 1894; but the separate Oriental Series of 100 plates is not included.

The nature of the several Indices is sufficiently indicated by their titles, viz.:—I. Chronological; II. Authors and Subjects; III. Country of Origin; IV. Character of Handwriting; V. Ornamentation; VI. Scribes and Artists; VII. Materials other than Vellum; VIII. Present Owners; IX. Former Owners. With regard to the chronological order, it should be observed that the dates of a few of the Manuscripts as now given differ from those originally assigned to them when the Plates appeared. Some of these corrections have already been noted in the Classified Tables of Contents issued at the close of each Series, but the complete list is as follows:—

14. ii. 142.	B.C. 255–254	in place of B.C. 254 or 253
15. ii. 143.	B.C. 210–209	„ B.C. 211 or 210

It will be seen that the majority of the changes are among the Greek Papyri. In some cases they are of slight importance and the result of more exact calculation on data supplied by the documents themselves, while in others, such as Nos. 24, 25, 31, 39 and 105, it has been necessary to modify in the light of recent discoveries opinions tentatively formed at a time when dated examples of these early hands were not available for comparison. Among later manuscripts, the more precise date given to the well-known Harley MS. of Lucian (No. 177) is based on the fact of the hand being the same as that of a MS. at Paris of Clement of Alexandria, which was written in A.D. 914 by the scribe Baanes for Arethas, Archbishop of Cæsarea (cf. Ser. II., Vol. I., Introd.); and valid reasons for correcting the dates of the three charters in i. 192, at the end of the above list, were adduced by Mr. J. H. Round in a letter to the Athenæum, 18 Feb., 1899. The same critic also pointed out that "Chevilly," where the charter of Henry II in i. 194 (No. 278) was dated, is not Chevaillec near Honfleur, but Quévilly near Rouen. A correction of a similar kind must be made in i. 195 (282), where the lands to which the charter refers are not in Oxfordshire, but in Elham and Bilsington, county Kent. Lastly, in i. 168 (No. 163), it should have been stated that in the note "Rægenboldus sacerdos de Wentonia civitate scripsit istum libellum," etc., the words in italics are inscribed over an erasure, and it is therefore doubtful whether the manuscript (Digby 63, at Oxford) was actually written at Winchester. According to Mr. E. W. B. Nicholson, Bodley's Librarian, its date, as proved by the directions for calculating the year of Our Lord on f. 20*b*, is A.D. 867.

Two other points perhaps call for notice. Index III, "Country of Origin," has been made as complete as possible, but, when the provenance of a manuscript is quite uncertain, it has necessarily been omitted. Again, some of the manuscripts, since the plates were published, have changed owners. As Index VIII, "Present Owners," refers to the time of publication and the imprints on the plates, these manuscripts will be found there, under the heading "Private Libraries," but any change of ownership down to the present time is duly noted within brackets. In the most important case, that of the now dispersed Ashburnham collections, the entries have also been repeated in Index IX.
